CAÑA CRISTALINA

Marcos López

COSAUTLÁN DE CARVAJAL, VERACRUZ

SUGARCANE JUICE RUM

This regionally rare cane variety was farmed in the district of Cosautlán de Carvajal, Veracruz. Considered to be a delicate species that is susceptible to plagues, few farmers still opt to cultivate this uncommon varietal. Marcos distilled this batch from fermented Cristalina “caldo” meaning broth - the local term for cane juice - with open flame on a 5-plate copper and stainless steel still made by his father.

TASTING NOTES

Clay, umami, truffle oil, and cola on the nose. Sea salt and serrano ham on the palate with stone fruit skin on the finish.
